

ROAR STREET JOURNAL

Ask The Author #8

Hi everyone! It's the 8th
Ask The Author episode!

And I can finally speak...

Last time, I asked for time-related questions.

Apparently, I had really bad time management last week - I fell ill from the stress of many work deadlines.

As a punishment,

I have to stay in and draw comics on Halloween night.

(It's not a punishment.
I love answering reader letters.)

I haven't dressed up for halloween for many years already.

Let's have some fun tonight.

Myki Tsuchiyama

Hi Bonnie,

some of us are night owls and some are early birds. What type are you? Does RSJ have a night shift? If so, who works it? Would some of the regular staff rather work different hours?

Nope, I'm not going to manage your time because you'll procrastinate even more.

I can, however, provide some tips to help you.

It's really funny how we always go "just 5 more minutes of TV".

rather than "just 5 more minutes of studying".

Sometimes the hardest step is taking the first step.

Try telling yourself "just 5 minutes of (whatever you should do)".

5 minute won't hurt.
Now you've got things started!

DoggieWuffWuff

Bonnie... sips tea Do you think TIME actually exists, as in, it exists before human discover it? Or just a type of measurement made by humans to help them better at managing their daily lives? I would like to have your opinion on this matter, Bonnie. sips coffee

I think the concept of TIME always existed since the birth of the universe.

Or maybe even before it

Humans only gave TIME a meaning and purpose when they "discovered" it.

And after the birth of this measurement...

...we all become slaves of time.

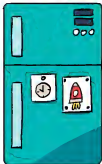

washball

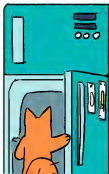

so... Time... If RSJ have a time machine, when in time would they go to and why? It can be the past or the future. Lots of love for your creativity and art and you :D

time-travelling

re-creation

refrigerator

PAST

FUTURE

PAST

FUTURE

Am I together with Cheetah-B...?

O
O
O

Wait, is that me or another lion?

of another doll...

No more annoying children!

PAST

FUTURE

Get married and move out soon!

It's crowded in here and I don't have any money for you!

I need to start finding matches for my children...

KlydeAria

Dear Bonnie, if you were to meet yourself from the past, what kind of advice would you give to your younger self? btw I like your art!!!

Past self

Current self

11

Read this!

mikiyagami

Hey Bonnie! This might be my first time commenting in your artwork, but I never forget to leave the love 💖

So my question is, I can't manage my own time. I keep PROCRASTINATING and in the end I regret my choice and do the works in rush. Any advice to prevent procrastination? Thanks! Much love xx 💖💖💖

Sometimes we know we procrastinate and it's not good.

But we still keep procrastinating.

Why is it so difficult?

Sometimes, procrastination is caused from a deeper level.

Perfectionism and fear of failure leads to procrastination easily.

"I want everything to be perfect before I begin".

or "I'm afraid I won't do it perfectly... I don't want to start yet"

Apart from getting pass that mentality and just start doing something.

you can make the tasks easier to accomplish.

Create a task list and decide you'll do something everyday

BOOK Report

★ read 10 pages every night before sleep!

Tell your brain to learn this new habit

Once you formed a habit

Once you formed a habit,
doing it will become automatic, similar to brushing your teeth every morning

honeycakes

Hey Bonnie! What would you do if you had to live forever?

1. Write an never-ending bucket list

Things to do ~~before I die~~

2. Cry over the death of everyone I know

SKIPPY

SKIPPY

SKIPPY

SKIPPY

RIP Skippy..

3. Turn my stories into art and draw forever

Ep. 25484

Ep. 25483

Ep. 25482

Ep. 25481

Ep. 25480

SHADOWLION

Do you believe time goes by faster when you're older and slower when you're younger? if so why?

Amazing comic by the way!

Definitely.

I have no idea why time passes so much faster as I become older.

Some says we feel half of our life passed when we reach 20 years old.

Before

I want to grow up sooner!

Now

I don't wanna grow up...

Maybe because we stopped growing up and started growing old.

goofy_girl89

If you could go back in time, would you try to fix a mistake, or take in the moment you treasure most?

There were no mistakes in my life.

Everything I did in the past was the "right" thing that makes me who I am today.

I regret nothing.

Moreover, fixing a “mistake” might create a dozen new problems.

I'd rather relive the moments I treasure.

Nakul Maletira

hi Bonnie, first, I just want to say, I love the comic. second, I see you say you do so much stuff as well. My only question is, How?

Everyone has the same 24 hours a day.

Well, for mine...

Weekdays

Weekends

I don't feel so bad because I'm not a big fan of these

I just keep a schedule and write down all the tasks for the next day.

GOOGLY CALENDAR

Myki Tsuchiyama

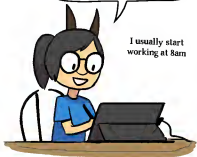

Hi Bonnie,

some of us are night owls and some are early birds. What type are you? Does RSJ have a night shift? If so, who works it? Would some of the regular staff rather work different hours?

I'm a relatively-early bird.

I can't concentrate the whole day
if I don't sleep enough at night.

I usually start working at 8am

There's no night shift at RSJ.

everybody goes home at night.

(except Po)

That doesn't mean the animals don't have their own "night shifts" though...

That's it for this episode!

I hope everyone can manage their time better.

Next Ask The Author theme:

FAMILY

What does family mean to you?

What are the families of RSJ like?

Send me family related questions in the comments section below!

 ROAR *
STREET
JOURNAL

RSTJ 2017 CALENDAR!

Instagram: Bonniepangart

Facebook: BonnieEEP

Twitter: Bonniepangart

www.bonniepangart.com